

Photos of the inauguration of the Tanakambana Secondary School in Madagascar

16th November 2017

School built in 2015-2016 with funding from the Eagle Foundation (FF00359), and a borehole installed in 2017 with funding from the Adsum Foundation

2 days travel to reach remote Tanakambana in the Ikongo district (above). A warm welcome on arrival:

Guests presented with hats on arrival at the school!

Raising of the flag whilst singing the National Anthem.

Large crowds and students lined up!

The mayor of Tanakambana presents 6 more written requests to Feedback for help from different schools in the area, and reiterates their need for more boreholes for clean water!

Traditional authorities and elders of the area.

Lots of speeches! ... and dancing performances.

Visiting classrooms: Dadah (Feedback Madagascar – Ny Tanintsika) explains details of the school to guests.

Cutting the ribbon to inaugurate the Tanakambana Secondary School.

Authorities visit the school's new borehole.

A student very happy with the school's new water supply (above) & the local maintenance technicians (below).
