4. Health Camps:

The Brothers organized two health camps to prevent and protect the people from communicable diseases arising due to water stagnation, ground water pollution and seasonal climate change. The Doctors who are private practitioners were hired for this purpose. General check-up was done to the beneficiaries. Specialized Doctors for dental, Ortho and eye checkup were invited and the people made full use of this opportunity. In both camps more than 600 women, children and men participated and benefited. 39 people were referred for further in-depth investigation / diagnosis.

Dates	Places	Participants

12/11/2018	Moonar	240

The participants were issued with vitamin tables, Iron tablets, Ointment for wounds, cough syrup and pain relief cream, etc. People with fever were given injection too. Above all, the people were given orientation on preventive health practices and some indigenous herbal use for simple common ailments and sickness.

5. Psychosocial Support:

The traumatized communities affected by flood and loss of their kith and kin and hard earned properties including livestock were given psycho social support through group counseling and individual counseling when needed. It helped the community to come out of the trauma and resume their normal life. Professionals were engaged as resource experts. It was done initially before and after the receipt of fund. Two of the Brothers were involved in this process. Three staff members accompanied them.

6. Achievements:

- ❖ The rice and groceries distributed to the beneficiaries in the post flood situation helped them to access a balanced diet with starvation. The women and children, especially, the lactating mothers received the necessary nutritional support. It helped them protect their physical health.

- ❖ The utensils and groceries that we distributed enabled them resume their normal cooking practices and feed the members of the families with all love and concern.
- ❖ The psycho social support rendered by the Brothers and the staff team enabled them recover from the shock, fear, grief and loss of dear and near ones and their hard earned properties. They felt that people were ready to help them and our intervention was perceived as god's gift and support to them in their moment of suffering and turmoil
- ❖ The protective clothes issued helped the survivors of flood protect them from cold weather, mosquito bites and other insects around their dwellings.
- ❖ The educational supplies enabled the children rejoin the school and continue to study without dropping out. New books, notebooks, school bags, etc generated interest and enthusiasm among the children in resuming the academics.
- ❖ The Health camps really helped the women, children and the aged persons screen them against common ailments. Most of them received preventive medicines in the form of vitamin tablets and syrup, nutritional supplements etc. Referrals and follow up support from the brothers and the staff team enabled them to diagnose for any serious illness on time and access proper medication.

7. Challenges:

- ⇒ On hearing about the distribution of relief measures to the 7 villages we identified, two of the neighbouring villages' leaders put pressure on us to include them for relief support. We expressed our limitation of budget but a few of them prevented us from traveling to the targeted villages. Then we had to take the support of the local leaders and Well-wishers who convinced them and relieved us from their pressures.
- ⇒ Transporting the relief materials was a big challenge as the roads were fully damaged and the drivers refused to drive the vehicle to a few villages. Then the local community made temporary mud roads in a few places where the metal roads were completely eroded. Then with the support of the youth, the relief materials were reached safely.

8. Changes:

- Initial support to re-start cooking their meals and the psychosocial support for recovery from their trauma, enabled the community resume their normal life. After 20 to 30 days, adults went for their daily work and started earning their bread and butter.
- Similarly, the children started attending their regular schools. 7 children who abstained from attending schools were referred to us and the Brothers gave counseling to the parents and the children who after a day or two rejoined the schools.
- People have developed a sharing attitude and helping tendency in the post flood situation. As the brothers gave them group counseling and orientation on the life coping skills and moral values, people took them in right spirit and exhibited positive attitudes while receiving the relief materials and helping the neighbours to clean their houses and debris. We could observe sharing of relief materials by others to those who did not get enough.

9. Differences:

There is no much difference in implementing the project line items. We received INR. 53,129 more through currency exchange rate and it was used to help more households and children to receive relief assistance. We also mobilized some more local donation which was also used for this purpose. However, the line items were not changed and the proposed target beneficiaries and the villages remained the same.

10. Photos:

Please see the attached file for photos

Conclusion:

On behalf of the community that received your relief assistance, we, the Brothers of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, take this opportunity to thank you from the depth of our hearts and pray for your successful mission in future. We shall remain very grateful and sincere to Eagle Foundation Switzerland for their generous donations. It has brought greater relief to the community and played a major role in helping them return to normal living.

Yours fraternally
